Message from Your Presidents

Donna Hamilton (& Anjali Shyam)

Do you believe that Quilts Kingston 2015 is almost here? Where did the time go? Spring is such a busy time with all the garden work and cleaning house. And this year, if you're like me, you're trying to finish that special quilt as well. So much to do. But we're having a grand time, right? It's wonderful to see the grass turn green again and the tulips bloom. I love watching my garden turn different colours as flowers bloom and then die to be replaced by a different coloured bloom.

It's been a busy year and especially this past few months. The Show Designers, Ros Hanes, Diane Davies, Mary Waugh, and Ann Oastler have done their work and are just about finished. I spoke to Beth Abbott, our featured quilter, who had visited with Mary and Ann about showing her pieces. She was absolutely impressed by the amount of detail that was being taken care of. She's been to a lot of shows, but hadn't seen anything like what the Designers are doing. As I read in the June/July 2015 issue of Quilting Arts magazine, they are "making a work of art out of our works of art".

The Registrars, Phyllis Langridge, Sheila Cornett, and myself have completed many items, the latest being the Catalogue. It is at the printers. Your Quilt labels will be tackled next by Phyllis and I'll be printing the labels for your green receipt cards. Marg Henshaw and Annie Dickson are watching that the final tasks are being completed. Anne Claudio and her team are busily making items for the Boutique. I hope you've had a chance to make something too.

I hope you've signed up to do some work at the Show. Sylvia Currie is trying to get more of you to sign-up for volunteering during the Show. She has tasks for everyone, be them standing or sit down jobs, she's got them. We need everyone to volunteer to do something every day. Without you our Show will not be possible. Please note - A new incentive has been added: to celebrate the 25th Anniversary of the Limestone Quilters' Guild, Eric Simkins of Simkins Sewing Machines, has generously donated The Skyline S5 Janome sewing machine, a value of $2800, as a draw prize. Everyone admitted to the Show will receive one draw ticket with their admission. If you work at the Show, you will also get one draw ticket for free. How exciting! Please sign-up and make our Show the best yet and maybe you will be the lucky winner of the new sewing machine.

We have 283 pieces to Show this year, and that doesn't include the Boutique. There are 89 bed quilts, 22 of which are hand quilted. There are 82 wall hangings, 18 of which are hand quilted. There are four quilts entirely stitched by hand, up for the Margaret and Murray Rhodes Memorial Award. There are 11 vendors and a scissor and rotary cutter sharpener. The Curling Club will be buzzing. Of course I haven't mentioned the names of many others who are working now for the lunch room, looking after door prizes, the judges, admissions, Viewers' Choice, Care and Repair, the theme areas including an "In Memoriam" for seven ladies between the two guilds who have passed away since the 2012 Show, and many more. Please accept Anjali's and my thanks to all of you for making this Show happen.

And the Kingston Heirloom Quilters are well represented with group quilts. We have Claire's Quilt, December Rose, and the Tulip Quilt to demonstrate hand quilting (don't forget to spend some time at the frame during the Show). We are also selling the smaller quilts, Butterflies and Birds, and Orphan Blocks I and the two wall hangings, Orphan Blocks II and III. To say nothing about the Boutique items.

I will have some more posters and bookmarks on Thursday, May 21. These are also on our Quilts Kingston web page (quiltskingston.org), so that you can send them to your friends electronically. Bethany Garner and Heather Buchan have done a lot of work with publicity. You should start seeing signs all over Kingston (with your help). Bethany has certainly sent electronic notifications to every guild she could find within about a 300 hundred mile radius.

A procedure is being finalized for the quilts being sold hanging in the Show. (ie. Tell visitors to see the cashier of the Boutique). Watch your email and be sure to tell your buddies what we are doing. White glove ladies should especially pay attention to this but anyone could ask you how can I purchase that quilt that is for sale.

Don't forget to have your quilts photographed by Susan Torrens. There are still openings. Check for the information later in this newsletter. By doing this you will help make the CD of our Show possible.

Finish up your quilting and sewing and let's have fun at our Show. We've worked hard and I'm sure it will be noticed as it has been in the past.

Happy Spring, Happy Quilting and see you at the Church Hall and Quilts Kingston 2015!

Napanee Quilt Show

Diane Davies

I was lucky to visit the Napanee quilt show with several friends, & met many others there. It was a small show, but very nice, with a surprising number of full size quilts. The quilts were very colourful & of good quality, but as at ALL shows these days, most were machine pieced & quilted, so we really need to keep the old traditions going.

Quilts Kingston 2015

It's almost show time! Here we are completing some of the final show preparations.

The Bev MacDonald block quilt is being basted and it will be ready for a quilting bee at Phyllis's.

Kym is quietly hemming more backdrop curtains for the show.

The last of the pencil quilting marks have been removed from Claire's quilt. Margaret's solution and a gentle toothbrush have done the trick.

Simone is almost finished marking the tulip quilt so it will be ready for basting and then putting on the frame for quilting at the show. It's looking pretty good now that it has its border.

The quilters are finishing off the second "Bug" quilt now known as "Butterflies and Birds".

Claire's Quilt finished!

One of the Bev Macdonald quilts is finished ... well done, ladies!

Anne and her crew have worked hard and now have a great variety of things ready for sale in the Boutique. Everybody loved the fun aprons complete with towels that Rosalie made in Florida. How about a mini workshop in the fall to learn how to make them?

José and her Xmas apron.

Simone and a couple of children's aprons made with orphan blocks

Joan and her stuffed bunny and bear.

We have a dozen tied baby quilts ready for sale at the Show Boutique with lots more ready to go to Hugs program at the hospital. There will be plenty of different colours to choose from!

- ** A warm welcome to our newest members, Lynda Kerckhoff and Laeticia Medina, and it's wonderful to have long standing member Mary Ann able to join us again once a month.
- ** Please remember to bring a package of napkins for donating to the quilt show lunch room. Variety is welcome!
- ** Sylvia, in charge of staffing, is still looking for people to volunteer to both help set up and work during the show.
- ** José has agreed to take over Publicity next year. Many thanks for all your work, Peggy, over the last several years. Welcome José.
- ** Pot luck luncheon is on Thursday May 21. Don't forget to bring a goodie, your plate(s), cutlery, and donation for the Food Bank.
- ** Get your quilts photographed before June 2. You don't have to have all your quilts ready..... With 282 quilts and quilted items to photograph, edit and compile, ready to burn CDs for Friday morning at 10am, even a single quilt helps. It would be greatly appreciated by the photography team!
